

The Harvard Book Prize 2015

Three of our F.5 students were awarded The Harvard Book Prize 2015. The Prize is awarded to students who demonstrate academic excellence, possess exceptional personal qualities, or make significant contributions to the school and community.

Name & Class	Prize
5C Wong Yan-lam	First Place Prize Winner
5D Yeung Sung-ching	Runner-up
5E Ho Tsz-long	Runner-up

Winners were awarded the book titled “Connected: The Surprising Power of Our Social Networks and How They Shape Our Lives” by Nicholas Christakis, sociologist, physician and Professor of Medical Sociology at Harvard Medical School (2001-2013).

